URBAN design

& water cycle ecotechnology
an integrated approach

Typical feedback from developers utilising the services of THG

"Now my project team (professionals) are finally all on the same wave length"

"I no longer have to co-ordinate the various professionals myself"

"The integration of services such as planning, urban design and water issues provides me with a smooth cost-effective process"

"I no longer have to mediate between the egos of my planners/engineers and my urban designers, who previously never saw eye to eye"

THG offers an integrated in-house planning, urban design & water cycle ecotechnology service
